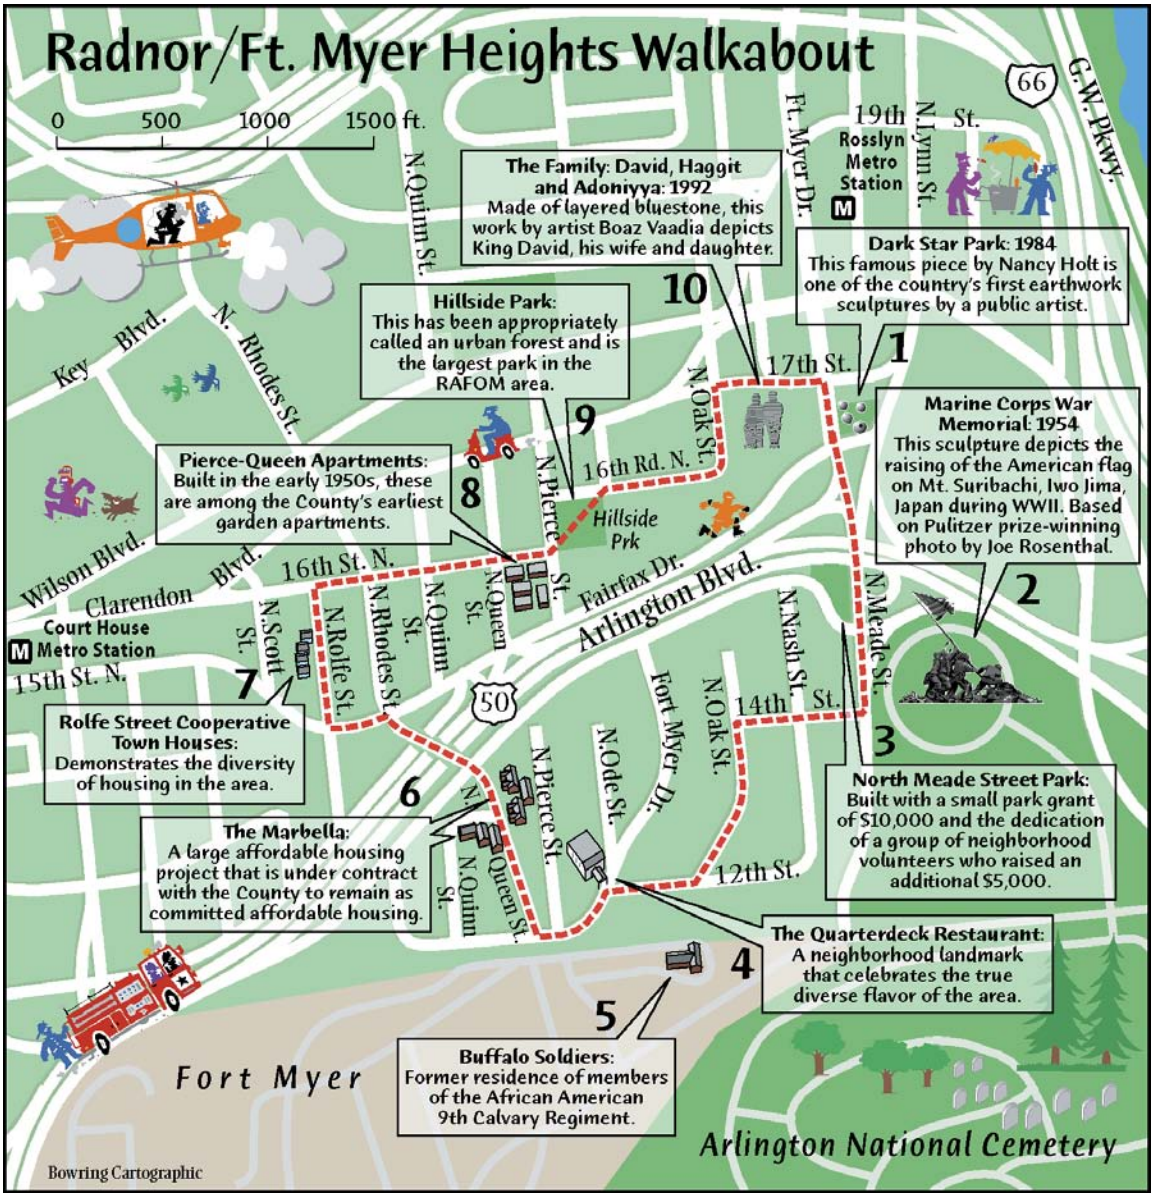
WALKArlington Walkabouts:

Radnor/Ft. Myer Heights

Length:
1.7 miles

Terrain:
Mostly easy, with some rolling terrain and one steep uphill.

Ambience:
A friendly, diverse community within walking distance of Metro and Georgetown, dotted with mature trees and small green parks.



Radnor/Ft. Myer Heights is bordered by historical Fort Myer and Arlington National Cemetery to the south and the Marine Corps War Memorial/Iwo Jima Park to the east.

The County's largest inventory of low and moderate income housing and garden-style apartments can be found here, as well as many single family residences, luxury hi-rises and townhomes. Located near the dense urban area of Rosslyn, residents of RAFOM treasure the unique character of their peaceful, treed neighborhood with its economic and ethnic diversity.

For more about walking in and around Arlington, visit www.walkarlington.com.

Other nearby walkabouts:
Ashton Heights (www.walkarlington.com/go/walks.html)

ARLINGTON VIRGINIA